TIPS & ADVICE COLUMN

5 tips for tantrum-free journeys

If you've got a long car journey coming up, try some of the ideas below :

- Sing a song. Put on a CD or playlist of your toddler's favourite songs and have a fun family sing-along.
- Play 1-2-3. Ask him to look out for a particular number on the number plates of cars.
- Play I-Spot. Give your toddler three things to look out for on the journey and see if he can spot them. These could be things like a green traffic light, a dog or a bike. Or ask your toddler to make up his own list.
- Finger puppets are great fun for bored toddlers in the back of cars. Ask him to give them names and tell a story about them.
- Shhh...Challenge your toddler to stay quiet for 5 minutes without making a sound. Give him a timer so he can see how he's doing.

Get the entertainment in place before you set off on a long car journey
